To Whom So Ever It May Concern

We are pleased to certify that Kushagra Srivastava successfully completed a Software Development Engineer Internship at Atthah Info Media Pvt. Ltd., Gurugram, Haryana, India, from June 2024 to August 2024.

During this period, Kushagra demonstrated strong technical aptitude and a collaborative working style. He made meaningful contributions to our product and engineering initiatives, including the development of a React/TypeScript- based content management interface, a RESTful data delivery API built in Python, and an automated media asset pipeline integrated with cloud strong infrastructure. He also contributed to a consumer behavior analytics module supporting our experiential installation deployments.

We found Kushagra to be a diligent, intellectually curious, and technically capable intern who consistently delivered quality work within team timelines. His proficiency in Python, React, TypeScript, REST API design and cloud tooling was clearly evident throughout his engagement with us.

We wish him the very best in his academic and professional pursuits and would be happy to serve as a reference for future opportunities.

Technically Yours,

Shubahm Saurabh
